

The structured program AROWI at the University of Oldenburg aims to accompany social science graduates in the areas of work, organization and knowledge in the development of their doctorates, and to bring them closer to new social science approaches and studies on these topics. It is part of the university-wide Graduate School 3 GO and can be completed with a certificate after completion of the planned events (summer schools, own teaching, foreign lectures, participation in colloquia ...) in the total scope of 30 credits. The contents of the doctoral programs are regulated by an examination regulations. The doctoral program continues to be based on the relevant regulations of the Faculty I.