Conditions of participation for the qualification workshops of the Graduate Academy

1. The workshops and programs of the Graduate Academy are open to all doctoral candidates who are registered at the University of Oldenburg as well as to all early career researchers after the doctorate, junior research group leaders (“Nachwuchsgruppenleitende”) and Junior Professors with and without tenure track of the University of Oldenburg. Furthermore, doctoral candidates of Hochschule Bremen City University of Applied Sciences, Hochschule Emden/Leer and Jade University of Applied Sciences as well as early career researchers during or after the doctorate of the University of Bremen and HIFMB may participate in the workshops.

The registration for participation is binding and active participation (in the case of digital formats e.g. with an active camera) a prerequisite for a certificate of participation.

2. The workshops may be attended free of charge. A workshop takes place if an appropriate number of registrations considering the nature of the workshops or program have been received. Should the minimum number of registrations not be achieved, the Graduate Academy may cancel the workshop.

3. Registration for workshops is usually via StudIP where the status of the registration is apparent directly and immediately. In the case of unexcused absences the Graduate Academy may suspend the participant from further registrations for workshops offered by the Graduate Academy for up to twelve months. For reasons of absence such as illness, an accident, a case of death within the family, and acts of nature beyond control the Graduate Academy may forgo the suspension. In the case of doubt the decision lies with the Graduate Academy.

4. Early career researchers may only register for workshops individually. The registration of more than one participant is not possible. Places are allocated based on a “first come, first served”-basis. However, for each offer at most half of the available places will be allocated to researchers of the same school (“Fakultät”) in order to ensure interdisciplinarity.

5. Registrations, which have not resulted in a confirmation of participation because the number of registrations exceeds the number of workshop places available or because of desired interdisciplinarity, are kept on a waiting list within StudIP.

6. Personal information such as name and email-address may be forwarded to the relevant instructor for preparation purposes. He/she may contact the participants before the workshop.

7. The University of Oldenburg, its legal representatives and assistants are liable – also in non-contractual settings – solely for intent and gross negligence. Liability for damages arising from loss of life, physical injury or damage to health, and from contractual duties shall remain unaffected (cardinal obligation). There is no liability for the personal property of participants or for any articles brought to the training course.

8. Should individual terms of this contract be or become invalid, this will not affect the remaining terms of this contract. The contracting parties shall undertake to replace the invalid or unenforceable provision with one which comes closest to the intended purpose of the invalid or unenforceable provision.
