

List of Contents

Habermas biography: Tracing a Life

Rethinking the University

Photo series: From the Workshop into the Laboratory

Ultrafast Nano-Optics: The Tiniest of Worlds

3 Editorial

7 The Number
The ForWind wind tunnel

Research Update

8 One Law but Many Questions
Energy and environmental economist Christoph Böhringer advises the German government

10 Announcements

14 Tracing a Life
Habermas biography: interview with author Stefan Müller-Doohm

Cover Story

16 Rethinking the University
The University is celebrating its 40th birthday. Where does it stand today? What are its responsibilities? What are its priorities? An exchange of views.

24 Photo series
From the Workshop into the Laboratory: The separator isolates microplastic particles from the sea

28 At the Heart of Everyday Life
Researching assistance functions that can be integrated into everyday life: computer scientist Susanne Boll

32 Pioneer of a Young Discipline
Antje Timmer, health services researcher at the Faculty of Medicine.

34 The Tiniest of Worlds
Understanding the optical properties of nanostructures: Christoph Lienau and his research group „Ultrafast Nano-Optics“

41 New Appointments

44 Doctorates

48 A Floating Research Laboratory
The Institute for Chemistry and Biology of the Marine Environment (ICBM) is the home institute of the new deep-sea research vessel SONNE. An infographic.

40 UGO, Imprint and Picture Credits