

Content

Contributing authors	iii
Preface/Introduction Bernd Möller	vii
A techno-economic Analysis of Grid extension against Stand-Alone Generation Systems in Sezibwa, Uganda Alexander Komakech-Akena	1
Assessment of Distributed Generation Based on Renewable Energy Sources in Honduras Jorge Núñez	16
Assessment of the potential of Bagasse for Cogeneration and for power supply enhancement in West Kenya Michelle Paula Akute	33
Design of Stand-Alone and Grid Connected Hybrid Standardized Solar Power Systems for Rural and Urban Applications in India Dishant Saurin Parikh	55
Technical and Socio-Economic assessment of a community based mini-grid in Baglung District of Nepal Ranju Pandey	73
A system complexity approach to swarm electrification Sebastian Groh and Mathias Koepke	89
A review of mini-grids in Kenya Patricia Kiarie	112
Institutional capacity of rural electric cooperatives- does it also meet financial inclusion? Annika Groth	120
25 years of capacity building for sustainable development at the University of Flensburg Wulf Boie	135